9. Result

Thus, the Insurance Claim Request & Processing Management application was successfully designed and developed using Zoho Creator. The Claim_Request_Form uses all thirteen Basic Fields and stores submitted claim requests in the Claim_Request_Report.

10. Conclusion

The experiment demonstrates how an insurance claim request process can be converted into a simple low-code application. The form provides a structured method to collect claimant details, contact information, claim details, supporting-document information, callback preference, and declaration, while validations help ensure that the submitted data is valid.
